

UNIVERSITY PROVISION OF AFFORDABLE HOUSING FOR EMPLOYEES SUPPORTING SDG 11

The university upholds its commitment to social responsibility and community sustainability by providing affordable housing options for its employees. This initiative directly supports Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities, particularly target 11.1, which emphasizes ensuring access for all to adequate, safe, and affordable housing.

Through the development and maintenance of on-campus and nearby residential facilities, the university ensures that its faculty and staff have access to secure and reasonably priced accommodation. These housing programs are designed to ease financial burdens, promote work-life balance, and foster a sense of belonging within the university community.

In addition to affordability, the university ensures that these residences meet standards of safety, sustainability, and accessibility, incorporating green spaces, efficient utilities, and proximity to essential campus services. The availability of employee housing also helps reduce commuting distances, lowering transportation costs and environmental impact.

By supporting its employees through accessible housing opportunities, the university demonstrates a holistic approach to sustainability integrating social welfare, environmental responsibility, and economic inclusivity. These initiatives reinforce the university's active role in realizing the objectives of SDG 11, which aims to build inclusive, safe, resilient, and sustainable communities.
