

URDANETA CITY UNIVERSITY CHAMPIONS QUALITY EDUCATION THROUGH “EMPOWERING EXCELLENCE: A PERSONNEL DEVELOPMENT JOURNEY”

Urdaneta City University (UCU) once again reaffirms its strong commitment to Sustainable Development Goal 4 (Quality Education) through the launch of its seminar-workshop titled “Empowering Excellence: A Personnel Development Journey.” This initiative underscores UCU’s dedication to fostering continuous learning, professional growth, and institutional excellence among its workforce.

The training seminar is designed to cultivate a culture of lifelong learning and innovation within the university community. It aims to equip employees with the necessary skills and knowledge to adapt to evolving educational and professional challenges. By investing in personnel development, UCU not only strengthens its human resource capabilities but also enhances employee engagement, satisfaction, and retention—key drivers of organizational success and sustainability.

Through this activity, participants are expected to enhance their abilities, demonstrate leadership, and apply new knowledge in their respective roles. The program encourages mentoring, career path navigation, and active participation in professional growth initiatives. It also emphasizes personal effectiveness and motivation, enabling participants to harness professional networks, adapt to changes in education, and contribute meaningfully to institutional excellence.

By implementing programs like “Empowering Excellence,” Urdaneta City University continues to promote inclusive and equitable quality education, not only for students but also for its faculty and staff. This initiative reflects the university’s unwavering dedication to creating a learning environment where both individuals and the institution grow together—advancing the spirit of SDG 4: Quality Education for All.

MAKE SDG#4 A REALITY
