

URDANETA CITY UNIVERSITY SUPPORTS LOW-INCOME STUDENTS TO ACHIEVE ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Urdaneta City University (UCU) continues to demonstrate its commitment to inclusive and equitable education through programs and initiatives designed to assist students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds. Specifically, the University prioritizes support for learners belonging to the bottom 20 percent of household income groups in the country, ensuring that financial constraints do not hinder their pursuit of higher education.

Recognizing that access to education alone is not sufficient, UCU has established a comprehensive framework to help low-income students successfully complete their studies. This includes targeted financial assistance, academic mentoring, counseling services, and access to essential learning resources. These interventions are carefully structured to address the challenges that students from low-income families often face, such as limited study materials, transportation costs, and the need for additional academic guidance.

URDANETA CITY UNIVERSITY POLICY ON SUPPORT PROGRAMS FOR LOW-INCOME STUDENT SUCCESS

Policy Title: UCU Low-Income Student Academic Support Program

Effective Date: January 2024

I. Policy Statement

In line with its mission to provide inclusive and equitable quality education, Urdaneta City University (UCU) establishes the Low-Income Student Academic Support Program to ensure that students from the bottom 20 percent (20%) of household income groups, or other verified economically disadvantaged groups, receive the necessary assistance to successfully complete their studies.

This policy is aligned with Sustainable Development Goal 1 (No Poverty) of the United Nations, reflecting UCU's commitment to reducing poverty through education by equipping students with the academic, financial, and psychosocial support needed to achieve degree completion.

II. Objectives

1. To provide comprehensive support for low-income students to ensure retention and successful program completion.
2. To reduce the risk of academic dropouts among economically disadvantaged learners.
3. To offer financial, academic, and psychosocial assistance, including scholarships, mentoring, and counseling services.
4. To contribute to poverty alleviation and social mobility through higher education.

To institutionalize monitoring and evaluation mechanisms to assess student progress and program effectiveness.
